

Please forward to students interested in community development...and chocolate.

Mark Pinsky: Partnering with Starbucks to Create Jobs and Develop Communities

Wednesday, February 29th
3:30 - 5:00pm

UNH Holloway Commons, Swampscott Room

In this interactive session for students using Starbucks chocolate to role-play, Mark Pinsky will discuss his Starbucks partnership, how community development really works, and "triple bottom line" careers in which young professionals can do well by doing good.

Mark Pinsky

Mark Pinsky is president and chief executive officer of Opportunity Finance Network, the national network of high-performing community development finance institutions and other opportunity finance institutions. Opportunity Finance Network is leading the industry toward its goal of creating a high-impact, high-volume financing system providing tens of billions of dollars annually to benefit millions of low-income and low-wealth people. Together with Starbucks Coffee, Opportunity Finance Network launched a $5M campaign in November 2011 to "Create Jobs for USA" by offering $5 wristbands at Starbucks locations and directing those donations to help create and sustain jobs in underserved communities. Mark also sits on the board of directors of Net Impact, a national network of student and professional chapters dedicated to mobilizing a new generation to use their careers to drive transformational change in their workplaces and the world.

This event is brought to you by The Carsey Institute, Net Impact UNH, and Starbucks Coffee.

For more information, contact Yusi Turell
The Carsey Institute